

NuCrete™

WE'VE JUST ELIMINATED YOUR LAST REASON FOR NOT USING CONCRETE.

Introducing NuCrete™

Architects and designers love concrete so much that they have talked clients into using it, despite the staining and cracking historically associated with this warm, colorful and sculptural material. After years of research, Sonoma Cast Stone has finally removed this hurdle and achieved a truly stainless concrete without coating the surface with epoxy-like materials.

Hard to believe?

We thought you would think so. Go ahead, give it a try. Limes, lemons, wine and oil have long been the enemy of concrete countertops. No longer. You'll be amazed... It really does work! A stainless, crack-free concrete is exactly what people in the Kitchen and Bath Industry have wanted for years. Now it's here.

Sonoma Cast Stone products made with NuCrete™ will maintain their pristine finish through the years, even in commercial environments.

After nearly three years...

and hundreds of experiments, the Sonoma Cast Stone Research and Development department achieved a product that is totally unique. By changing our basic mixes and greatly modifying production methods and surfaces, Sonoma Cast Stone achieved a one-of-a-kind, trademarked, stainless formula.

Currently, Sonoma Cast Stone products made with NuCrete™ are available in a selection of 24 natural and designer colors, and custom colors are available.

The World's Only Stainless Concrete

To account for the number of household products that leave a "memory" on standard concrete surfaces, a series of exhaustive tests (including direct exposure to streams of alkaline, acid and oils) were run in developing the NuCrete™ mixture.

Sonoma Cast Stone has perfected the formulas and the manufacturing techniques to produce products that are almost four times stronger than building code requirements.

If you are currently planning a project, fax your schematics, measurements or drawings to us at 707.283.1899, and we'll be happy to provide a free cost estimate of your work done in our new, stainless NuCrete™.

Sonoma Cast Stone stands at the forefront of concrete innovation by mastering the craft and taking the production process to a higher level.
